

Fabcon supplies processing equipment to potato crisp producer

Posted in News - on 29 August 2017

Manufacturer of food processing equipment Fabcon Food Systems has agreed to supply potato crisp producer Fairfield Farm Crisps with a variety of frying, weighing, seasoning and packaging systems for the company's facility in the Colne Valley, near Colchester, UK.

Trevor Howard, managing director of Fabcon Food Systems, says, "We worked closely with the company to supply and install the best and most suitable machinery. Working with Fairfield allowed us to showcase the impact our processing equipment can have on quality, speed and packaging within the food sector."

Robert Strathern, owner and managing director of Fairfield Farm Crisps, adds, "Importantly, we have a new-found flexibility in our production line as it allows us to season and package different flavours at the same time but uniquely, on the same line and on any machine. That interchangeability is vital as we bring new lines to market and satisfy demand as our product range expands."

Formed in 2015, Fabcon Food Systems manufactures, supplies and installs handling and processing equipment for the food industry. Designed and built at the company's Norwich, UK factory, Fabcon supplies its systems and machinery to customers in the UK, mainland Europe, the Middle East and Africa.